

PORTER MEMORIAL LIBRARY 2018 MEET THE AUTHOR SERIES

February 14, 2018
Time: 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Nancy Lynn Jarvis finally acknowledged she was having too much fun writing to ever sell another house, so she let her license lapse after her twenty-fifth anniversary in real estate. She will speak to us about her various books and ones still being written. An interesting fact about Nancy is that she worked at Porter Memorial Library when it was part of the County Library System.

Nancy's philosophy is that you should try something radically different every few years. Writing is one of her latest adventures. She invites you to take a peek into the real estate world through the stories that form the backdrop of her Regan McHenry mysteries. The murders are made up, but the real estate details and ideas come from her own experiences.

She is working on book seven in the series and then plans a new series called Geezers With Tools (double entendre intended) about two retired men who start a handyman business, one because he is recently widowed and needs a way to fill his time, and the other because he's a player who thinks it will be a good way to meet women.

These programs are informal coffee hours where local authors discuss their works, answer questions, and autograph their books. They are free of charge and open to the public. Coffee will be provided by The Ugly Mug. For further information call 475-3326

We are located at 3050 Porter Street, Soquel. Parking is available behind the library. Enter from Soquel Drive into the Bagelry parking lot and drive through to the left.
